

I am a student at Cotswold school and was chosen to review Coast watcher by David Hill.

Coast watcher is a very exciting story filled with adventure, trust and war. David Hill created an amazing plot filled with exciting twists that make you see his story from a whole new perspective. Coast watcher is, overall, one of the best war stories I have ever read. I would recommend this book to ages 9-14, especially to those who love inspiring adventure books.

My favourite part (this was hard to choose) was when the islanders showed Frank, Les and Wally the parachute and how Frank had the idea to copy the Japanese code book, then send it to their HQ. I also liked how it made me think, "What about his TB?" David Hill made it a bit nerve wracking how Frank had TB the whole time he was a Coast Watcher.

I really enjoyed reviewing the book Coast watcher,

- Poppy, aged 10, Christchurch.